8:30am – 10:00am Staying Ahead! Maintaining an Effective Compliance Program, Improving Operations, and Reducing Audit Risk

September 10 & 11, 2025 | The Saratoga Hilton, Saratoga Springs, NY

*Tentative Agenda as of 8/4/25 – Subject to Change*

Lori Sievers, Hinman Straub

Lori Sievers is a member of the Firm's Health Law department. Her practice focuses on representing Long Term Care providers. She represents assisted living residence, social day care and home care operators in all licensing and regulatory compliance matters, acquisitions and sales, and litigation matters. She has served on a variety of work groups and task forces, including the Assisted Living Task Force, ACF Licensure Streamlining Workgroup and Regulatory Rewrite Workgroup, where she has played a key role in shaping licensure and operational policy. Her unique understanding of operational issues, partnered with her extensive experience in assisted living law and regulations allows her to efficiently problem-solve and partner with clients to strategically plan and meet their licensure goals, compliance strategies and ownership transitions.

She is a member of the New York State Bar Association and the Capital District Women's Bar Association, where she is active with the CARE and Classroom Committee.

Chris Chase, Hinman Straub

Chris Chase is a member of the Firm's Health Law Department. Prior to joining the firm, Mr. Chase worked at the Department of Health for nine years, most recently as Deputy Director for the Bureau of Program Counsel. At the Department, Mr. Chase advised DOH Executive staff and the Governor's Office on a wide range of issues relating to Medicaid, managed care, long term care, and labor-related matters. He also participated in the State's budget process, drafting statutory language for the Executive Budget, advocating for Department priorities with the Governor's Office and Division of Budget, and negotiating budget items with the State Senate and Assembly.

Mr. Chase assisted the Department in navigating complex federal and state legal environments and litigation risk in operating the Medicaid program, helping staff to implement budget initiatives and address stakeholder concerns. Among his responsibilities, he reviewed proposed policies and program documents for regulatory compliance and litigation risk, negotiated with other State agencies (e.g., OMIG, MFCU, OMH, OPWDD, and OASAS) and managed care plans to amend the Medicaid managed care model contracts, assisted litigation counsel and the Attorney General's office in defending Department actions, and oversaw the work of other attorneys.

Prior to joining the Department, Mr. Chase was a member of the New York State Bar Association's eHealth and Information Systems Committee. He helped organize several continuing legal education events and developed an internship program with Albany Law School, directing student research and writing projects to assist policy makers in implementing telehealth and telemedicine in New York State.

10:30am – 12:00pm The Integration Equation: Navigating LHCSA's Distinct Role in the ALP Setting

Licensed Home Care Services Agencies (LHCSAs) play a pivotal role within the Assisted Living Program (ALP), delivering home care services to residents within a congregate setting. Meeting LHCSA requirements and expectations in such a unique application can feel like trying to fit a square peg into a round hole. This session unpacks the unique regulatory, operational, and clinical considerations for LHCSAs embedded within ALPs—shedding light on compliance nuances and surveyor expectations.
